UNDERGRADUATE SCHOLARSHIP APPLICATIONS FOR 2018-2019

All BBA and BA Economics majors, who will graduate in December 2018 or later, are eligible for McCoy College scholarships.

Students complete one application for eligibility to all McCoy CBA scholarships. Note that accounting majors have an additional form that is on the website.

All materials are due in the Dean's Office, McCoy 530, by 5 pm on February 5, 2018.

Students with very high GPAs may also apply for the Presidential Upper-Level Scholarship, a very prestigious award which is awarded to one student in McCoy each year.

Go to the McCoy College webpage at www.mccoy.txstate.edu. Click on Undergraduate Program, then click on Undergraduate Scholarships. Browse through the scholarships and their criteria. Click the link for applications, instructions and FAQs. Be sure to read the FAQs thoroughly before completing your application.

Contact faculty members and employers as soon as possible to allow them plenty of time to write your recommendation letters.

Public Service Announcement

The deadline to register to vote in the spring primary election is Monday, February 5, 2018.

Students are often unaware that they have the right to vote where they currently live.

Visit https://www.lwv.org/local-leagues/lwv-hays-county or http://www.vote411.org for more information.

Congratulations

Dr. Floyd Quinn for his latest publication in the journal Child Welfare, "Factors Affecting Perceptions of Self-Value among Employees of Child Welfare Agencies."

Mr. Seth Frei for receiving the 2018 Online Teaching Award for Texas State University.

The award recognizes and rewards superior online teaching, provides models of excellence for fellow faculty, and encourages all faculty to continue to improve and advance their online teaching pedagogy.

Dr. Cecilia Temponi for co-editing the special issue on Information Systems, Logistics, and Supply Chain. This volume is an LNBIP by Springer.

Editor's Spotlight on
Dr. Matari Gunter

Teaching interests:
- Business Communications
- Professional Development
- Leadership Studies
- Effective Leadership
- Organizational Communication

Researching interests:
- How to define the construct of Business Communication
- Assessing Effectiveness of Business Communication theories and practice
- Authentic Leadership
- Transformational Leadership
- Leadership Studies

From broadcast journalism to the classroom, Dr. Gunter brings a unique and practitioner-based experience to students. As a radio and television news reporter, Dr. Gunter covered three hurricanes, and an execution, in addition to interviewing celebrities and world leaders such as Arnold Schwarzenegger, Billy Bob Thornton, and former President George W. Bush. Communicating in stressful, complex and sometimes enlightening situations, Dr. Gunter has used that experience to teach and inspire her students to practice, understand, and embrace the theories and principles of professional development and business communication. "My goal is to prepare our students to launch from the classroom to the workplace. I teach what I call 'sharp skills' that will not only help students land a job but will help them keep their job."

Currently teaches Business Communication: MGT 3353 & MGT 3453
