

Examples of Summary Entries:

(The first entry is an example of a change in course title and course description.)

CI 5308 Introduction to Gifted/Talented Education. (3-0) An introduction to gifted/talented education that covers: analysis of conceptions of giftedness and gifted/talented education; examination of policies related to gifted/talented education; survey of assessment practices, pedagogy, program options, and equity issues. Justification: Change in course title to better represent current terminology and to better represent the course description. Change in course description to update terminology and to more accurately reflect course content.

(The second entry is an example of a change in course title only.)

CI 5309 Talent Development. (3-0) Justification: Change in course title to better represent current terminology.

(The third entry is an example of a change in contact hours only.)

CI 5310 Creativity: Theories, Research, and Applications. (3-2) Justification: Change in contact hours to more accurately reflect laboratory instruction.

(The fourth entry is an example of a change in course description only.)

CI 5319 Social, Emotional, and Cultural Contexts of Advanced Development. (3-0) This course explores social, emotional, and cultural context issues related to precociousness, creativity, and high performance in children and adolescents, with an emphasis on practices in school environments. Justification: Change in course description to update terminology and to more accurately reflect course content.

(The fifth entry is an example of a change in prerequisites only.)

COUN 5689 Clinical Practicum. (3-3) Practicum includes counseling clients in university-affiliated counseling clinics, and a staffing seminar. May be repeated up to three times (18 credit hours) based on the recommendation of the counseling faculty. Graded on a credit (CR), no credit (F) basis. Prerequisites: COUN 5358, and all required coursework completed or departmental permission. Justification: Change in prerequisite insures students have taken the group counseling course (COUN 5358); prior to co-leading a counseling group as part of the practicum experience.