Texas State
SuperCat Salsa

Students in the McCoy College of Business at Texas State University are spicing up the San Marcos community. A team of six students in the final course of the Management BBA entrepreneurial concentration have launched Texas State “SuperCat Salsa” with the help of Texas State alumni, brothers Keith and Scott Vrana.

Stephen Crook, Tim Mauz, Robert Banks, Cole Parker, Seth Rhodes and Jack Wheeler worked with the Vrana brothers’ company, Consolidated Mills, Inc., to create and brand SuperCat Salsa.

The students have been participating in business to business sales with guidance and assistance from Dr. Hill and the Vrana brothers. All profits made from the salsa will be used to fund future Bobcat entrepreneurs wanting to start their own businesses. SuperCat Salsa will be sold at the Texas State Bookstore and local convenience stores.
