Business Leadership Week
February 13-16, 2012

Started in 2009, Business Leadership Week is a signature event for McCoy College. Business Leadership Week engages the students and faculty of Texas State University-San Marcos and the local community in conversations and learning about the Common Experience and business leadership ideas that extend beyond textbooks and classrooms by offering guest lectures, interactive events and contests, and forums for discussion.

Society for Human Resource Management (SHRM)

Student members of the Society for Human Resource Management created a program to build proficiency in conducting professional interviews in the workplace. Advisor Dr. Rob Konopaske used his experience with interviewing at companies, such as Johnson and Johnson, to train students, increase their confidence going into the job market, and help them to stand out by having experience with a unique skill that most recent college graduates do not possess. The interview workshop will be filmed and students will receive a DVD copy of their interview so they can watch their performance and refine their skills for a real job interview.

The student chapter of the Society for Human Resource Management (SHRM) at Texas State is open to all majors and provides members the opportunity to volunteer on campus and in the San Marcos community, earn scholarships and internships, network with HR professionals, and form lasting friendships and professional relationships with other students.
