Please read the following information before signing.

The Texas State Panhellenic Community emphasizes academic excellence among our chapters and all of their members. It is because of this we will work around any conflicts you may have so you can participate in Recruitment without having to miss class.

If your conflict forces you to miss an entire day of Recruitment, you must contact your Head Recruitment Counselor to find out your schedule and tell them what your selections for the day are. It is your responsibility to make sure this occurs.

If your conflict is such that we are unable to have you meet with every chapter on your schedule for that day, the chapter will make their decision based solely on your application and any conversations they may have had with you during Recruitment.

By signing below, you guarantee all of the information provided on this form is correct and allow the Panhellenic Council to adjust your schedule as needed. You also understand the priority will be given to class conflicts, university required events, and family emergencies. The Panhellenic Council cannot guarantee you will visit all of the chapters you were assigned to attend, but will make every effort to allow you to do so.
