TEXAS STATE®

DEAN OF STUDENTS OFFICE

Hello and Welcome to Texas State University!

We are excited for you to join our fraternity and sorority community! Greek Life is a vibrant and important part of our campus. The administrators, faculty and staff members of Texas State University look to the members of our fraternity and sorority community as leaders among leaders. This distinction as leaders also comes with responsibility and accountability in all that we do. I challenge you to seek out leadership positions across our campus. In particular, I encourage you to consider membership in one of our 11 outstanding fraternities and then pursue one of the hundreds of leadership positions offered within our own Greek community.

This is a great time to become a member of the fraternity and sorority community here at Texas State University! We are in the midst of many positive changes to our community including new resources and staffing to support our fraternities and sororities as well as providing new opportunities for our student leaders to excel both within and outside of the classroom. As fraternity and sorority members we are charged with the responsibility of adapting to an ever-changing environment. We are challenged to design and redesign programs to meet the needs of the changing face of our local and global communities. We hope you will consider becoming a part of our outstanding fraternity and sorority community to be a part of the new leadership opportunities we are able to provide. We are seeking bright leaders to help develop and implement change and all that it entails for our community, because at one time “tradition” was a new idea. To quote former Senator Bob Dole: “The best way to cope with change is to help create it.” We hope you will join us!

Bob Dudolski

Assistant Dean of Students

Welcome from the Interfraternity Council President

Jake Negvesky

On behalf of the Interfraternity Council, I would like to congratulate you on your decision to attend Texas State University and welcome you to the Bobcat family! There is no better place to spend your collegiate career than right here in the heart of Texas Hill Country. There is also no better time than now for you to become a part of the Greek family here at Texas State. We are at a pivotal point in our community and we need new leaders, new ideas, and new perspectives to continue advancing us to the best version of ourselves. In other words, we need people just like you.

Joining one of our 11 fraternity chapters will be one of the most fulfilling aspects of your college career. Membership opens the door to countless opportunities in leadership, personal development, and social connection. And not only are you joining the brotherhood of your local chapter, you are also joining an organization that spans throughout the nation and unites its members in a common bond. Fraternity allows you to become a part of something much bigger than yourself for life, long after you graduate.

I'd like to personally thank you for showing interest in Greek life here and hope you make the leap to join us! If you have any questions about the community or simply adjusting to college life in general, please do not hesitate to reach out to me! I can be found in the IFC office on the 4th floor of LBJ or you contact me via email at jgn15@txstate.edu. I hope to see you at the IFC recruitment events as you discover which chapter best fits you!

Eat 'em up!

Welcome from IFC Vice-President of Recruitment— Seth McNeill

Congratulations on your acceptance to Texas State University! We hope you are as excited as we are about the upcoming Fall 2018 semester. Fraternity life at Texas State is stronger than ever and we are encouraging you to be a part of it. Members of fraternal organizations are woven into almost every aspect of college life here at Texas State, including Student Government, Athletics, and Academic Honorary Organizations. Fraternity leaders strive to be the best in every field of study and activity.

Academics are the most important aspect of each fraternity on campus. After all, the primary purpose for attending a university is to further one's education. That is why the minimum grade point average set by Interfraternity Council (IFC) to join a fraternity is a 2.7 GPA and our member fraternity chapters must maintain a minimum of 2.7 GPA to stay in good standing with the IFC. This requirement is an effort to reinforce the importance of academics in the fraternity community. Community service and philanthropy are also major components of fraternity life on campus and in the San Marcos community. Every Greek organization has at least one, and in most cases many, philanthropic organizations they have committed to working with, assisting in creating better communities both locally and nationally.

By joining a fraternity, you have opportunities to be involved in life changing events, as well as making lifelong friendships. Personally, joining a fraternity was the best nonacademic decisions I have made since coming to Texas State. Membership has given me a better understanding of responsibility, an improved grasp of time management and I have learned how to respect and work well with others. Finally, I feel I have grown more in my first semester as a member of a fraternity than I did throughout my four years of high school.

If you are looking for a great college experience, as well as a way to improve your grades, and make lifelong friendships, I encourage you to check out each of our fraternities here at Texas State. If you have any questions please feel free to seek any of IFC's officers out in the IFC Office, 4th Floor, LBJ Student Center or contact me via email at:

IFC Recruitment Information

How do I join?

Texas State's IFC fraternities use a 365 recruitment model, allowing our fraternity chapters to recruit men all year long. The main focus is based on building strong relationships before an invitation to join is extended to a potential member. The theory behind this is we believe making a decision to join a fraternity is a Life-Long commitment and you should not make this important decision through high pressure situations. The more people you get to know through interaction on campus the better the chance you have of finding the fraternity with the best fit that you are looking for before making this lifetime commitment. All students must attend an orientation session to be eligible for a bid. Freshmen are encouraged to go through recruitment in the fall, but cannot receive a bid until they have achieved 12 credit hours on a college campus (AP and Dual Credit do not count).

You may receive invitations to join several fraternities, but only you can make the decision on the one that is best for you. Once you have the invitation or "bid", you have up to a year to accept that invitation. So, you should not be pressured into accepting the first "bid" you receive. Make a clear decision on how you feel about being a Lifetime Member of your chosen fraternity.

Once you have made your decision, you should communicate to the fraternity chapter that you have decided to accept their "bid" to join the fraternity. Then, ask your new brothers to escort you up to the Greek Affairs Office located in the LBJ Center, Room 4-14.1 to sign your "New Member Induction Form" that makes your "Bid Acceptance" official!

Have questions? Call or email the Greek Affairs Office at 512-245-5646 or email greek\_affairs@txstate.edu

Register for IFC Fraternity Recruitment at: <http://ifc.dos.txstate.edu/> for each of the fraternities to receive your contact information and interest in joining an IFC Fraternity!

Questions to Consider When Looking to Join a Fraternity:

- What are the academic requirements for joining the fraternity, getting initiated and becoming an active member?
- What are the dues for the fraternity my first semester and semesters to follow?
- What are the time commitments per week for fraternity activities and when will initiation occur?
- What does the chapter do to promote and assist with academic excellence?
- What does the chapter do to provide service to the community?
- Is it possible to maintain a job while joining a fraternity?
- If the chapter has a house, is it mandatory to live-in the house?

Tips for a Successful Recruitment Experience:

- Understand that time management is essential to your academic success and must be your first priority.
- Register for recruitment to maximize the benefit of contact with all of the fraternities.
- Try to meet with every fraternity to determine which is right for you.
- Ask questions and gather information so you can make an informed decision.
- Be yourself. Fraternities want to find men who will contribute to the mission and purpose of their organization.
- Involve your parents or guardians in your recruitment process. Talk about what you are seeing and hearing and allow them to assist you in thinking through the process.

COMMUNITY SERVICE AND PHILANTHROPY

One of the great experiences about experiencing brotherhood in a fraternity is the ability to serve others and your community. Each of the 11 IFC fraternities at Texas State were founded on the principles of Scholarship, Brotherhood, Leadership, and Service.

Service is not something to be taken lightly; it is an action. We want you to understand the purpose behind service: to experience helping others and giving back to a community that loves you and Texas State. Joining a fraternity can mold you into becoming a leader. Giving back to your community can be one of the most gratifying experiences in your collegiate life.

Each year all of our Texas State fraternities participate with their national philanthropy through events to raise awareness and money for a specific organization. Each fraternity's respective website contains information about their national philanthropy. We encourage you to research each of these. This past year, each of our fraternities participated in the largest community service project at Texas State; Bobcat Build. This event is a long standing tradition at Texas State and provides an avenue for all Texas State students to give back to the local San Marcos community.

We also host an annual Canned Food Drive for the Hays County Food Bank.

Along with that, we also host a clothing drive for the Southside Community Center.

The members of the fraternity community would like to congratulate you on your acceptance to Texas State and hope that you will consider joining a fraternity. Together we can make an impact on campus and our community.

ACADEMIC ACHIEVEMENT

When looking to join a fraternity we stress that your academics should always remain your number one priority, and Texas State gives you many resources to make sure you do just that. Our famous alumnus, President Lyndon B. Johnson, once said, “The noblest search is the search for excellence.” Every day that you are here at Texas State pursue excellence, because there is no greater reward than that of success.

Alpha Sigma Phi at Texas State University is dedicated to being the fraternity of choice for men seeking the best of Greek Life, and the best version of themselves.

With a chapter size of 65 over our first semester we are still trying to grow in order to reach our charter numbers. We plan to host a few philanthropy events this semester that are new ideas and we hope they have success with the planning we've done over the summer. We take part in community service events like River Clean Ups and Bobcat Build, and plan to do some work with the humane society this fall.

Our mission is this: To Better the Man, through the creation and perpetuation of brotherhood founded upon the values of character: Silence, Charity, Purity, Honor, Patriotism.

We strive to excel in the classroom because that's what we're really here for after all. We're a group of guys who like to have a good time while making a difference in people's lives and in ourselves.

Delta Sigma Phi strives to ever prove to the world the sincerity of our purpose through a mission of building a better man. Our goal is to build better men by emulating courage, action, and excellence. The Theta Eta Chapter at Texas State University thrives upon leadership and service. Through vigorous involvement in Student Government, University Ambassadors, Orientation Leaders etc., we have proven to create involved leaders on campus. Our brotherhood builds a better connection by serving our university. With service projects such as Bobcat Build we have reached a sense of fraternity both on campus and in the local community. The brothers of Delta Sigma Phi have shown our dedication to excellence by growing as a brotherhood both socially and academically by attaining the highest GPA average on campus. We encourage potential members to consider that joining our brotherhood is a call-to-action, an ancient tradition, and a chance to matter.

In 1972, Lambda Chi was the first fraternity in the nation to abolish hazing and the term “pledging.” Almost 50 years later, their associate membership program has welcomed hundreds of thousands of brothers to the fraternity making it the second largest social fraternity in the nation.

As a recolonizing fraternity at Texas State, any new member is considered a “founding father” before reaching charter. Lambda Chi prides itself on making good men great, and great men excellent; here at Texas State these men of Lambda Chi are actively involved across campus and aspire to continue being a strong fraternity with a solid foundation for men who are welcomed from all different backgrounds to help them grow not only while in college, but in the professional world as an alumnus as well.

The purpose of this Brotherhood, a Service/Social fraternity dedicated to the needs and concerns of the community, is and shall be to promote and maintain the traditional values of Unity, Honesty, Integrity, and Leadership. This Brotherhood was founded in order to provide, to ANY man, a diverse fraternal experience which coincides with a higher education.

Since its beginning in 1987, Omega Delta Phi has been an organization perpetually dedicated to the idea of constant growth and improvement. As such, we face the new challenges of tomorrow with a growing sense of optimism and newfound awareness that "good" will not be good enough.

We must work to form an organization which not only challenges the traditional perception of fraternities, but also one which deals with the issues of culture and race for a completely new perception of brotherhood. Thinking outside the box is no longer an acceptable plateau; the box must now be removed completely.

Phi Gamma Delta (also known as FIJI) is one of the oldest social fraternities in the nation, and will be sending two Headquarters staff members to San Marcos in September to recruit our Founding Fathers at Texas State. We are seeking gentlemen who embrace our five values of Friendship, Knowledge, Service, Morality, and Excellence. FIJI emphasizes academic excellence, as every new member earning a 3.2 GPA their first semester earns a $250 scholarship. In addition, we promote lifelong involvement, as our local alumni (whom we call graduate brothers) will be very involved in helping the colony develop leadership skills, campus involvement, and job networking.

Pi Kappa Phi was founded on the premise of creating leadership opportunities for our members. Our founders exemplified leadership in the classroom, on the athletic field, in campus politics and within the community of Charleston. Leadership is the very root of our organization, and it is the concept of leadership that shall guide us to our future.

Our Mission is to create an uncommon and lifelong brotherhood that develops leaders and encourages service to others for the betterment of our communities.

Our Vision is to create a future where every Pi Kappa Phi embraces his role as a leader, puts service before self and improves the world around him.

Our Creed Values are Common Loyalty, Personal Responsibility, Achievement, Accountability, Campus Involvement, Responsible Citizenship, Lifelong Commitment.

As a Brother of Sigma Alpha Epsilon we pride ourselves on academic achievements, athletic dominance, campus involvement, and the values of "The True Gentleman". We have consistently held a GPA above the IFC average and are always trying to improve upon it with incentive scholarships.

We are four time defending champs in both all-men's Greek and all-men's university intramural flag football. You can find a brother of SAE in nearly any campus (non Greek) organization, as we strongly encourage participation outside of the fraternity to create more relationships.

Being a brother of Sigma Alpha Epsilon requires the knowledge and the ability to live each day as a True Gentleman. Most importantly as a brother of the oldest southern fraternity and the largest national fraternity, our main mission is to prepare ourselves for future success and build bonds that will last a lifetime.

Rush Sigma Alpha Epsilon. Be True.

“One, and the main, aim and object of Sigma Chi has been, and is, to develop and train broadminded men who can recognize the wholeness of things and who are not bound down to a contracted, eight-by-ten notion on exclusiveness. There is an absolute necessity for such men.”

~Founder Benjamin P. Runkle, MIAMI (OHIO) 1857

Sigma Chi is a brotherhood with roots in the collegiate experience that stimulates a lifelong commitment to strive to achieve true friendship, equal justice and the fulfillment of learning as part of our overall responsibilities to the broader communities in which we live. The fundamental purpose of the Sigma Chi Fraternity is the cultivation, maintenance and accomplishment of the ideals of friendship, justice and learning within its membership. The Fraternity best serves that purpose by developing, implementing and monitoring programs that foster leadership, build character and promote positive relationship skills, which in turn enable its members to become productive and caring participants in their families, colleges and communities. Sigma Chi's core values are friendship, justice and learning. Our vision is to become the preeminent collegiate leadership development organization — aligned, focused and living our core values. Our mission is to develop values-based leaders committed to the betterment of character, campus and community.

The Sigma Nu Fraternity, founded at the Virginia Military Institute in 1869, is one of the oldest Greek organizations in the nation. Sigma Nu's mission has always been to help develop ethical men who are leaders in their community and excel with integrity and honor. Here at Texas State, we are the Eta Tau chapter of Sigma Nu, the 157th chapter founded under the national charter. We have been established at Texas State University since 1966, making us one of the oldest chapters on campus. We are a chapter of men who wish to live a more involved life than our non-Greek peers. Sigma Nu members enjoy the benefits of a brotherhood of motivated individuals, thriving participation in social events with other fraternities and sororities on campus, as well as the opportunity to benefit our community through philanthropy and community service. We invite all men who aspire to make their time at university an extraordinary one.

Sigma Tau Gamma was born out of the desires and aspirations of seventeen men in the belief that friendships of college men are lasting ones. It rose as a result of the friendships made in the service of our country during World War I. Here at the Delta Epsilon chapter of Sig Tau, we strive to emulate the ideals that our founding fathers possessed through outstanding success in academia, philanthropy, and our ability to craft a corps comprised of dedicated, honorable, and respected young men at Texas State University.

Our mission statement here at Sigma Tau Gamma is "To inspire and empower undergraduate men to become something greater than themselves."

We have implemented this through our involvement with Special Olympics, volunteering at several events throughout the year as well as raising money through fundraisers. We also pride ourselves on helping out the San Marcos community and supporting the student body at Texas State, heavily focusing on the Greek community. We hope you will take the next step and find your home within the Greek community here at Sigma Tau Gamma.

Theta Chi Fraternity will improve your college life by providing a home away from home. You will join a close-knit brotherhood that lasts a lifetime.

While we are a diverse group, we are held together by our creed and motto, "An assisting hand." As such, our chapter prides itself on our ability to provide the tools to grow and develop as a student, as a leader and as a gentleman. You will have opportunities to participate in large conventions, service projects, social events, intramural sports and brotherhood retreats.

We are a newer chapter and constantly growing and improving. With strong support from our national organization and from chapters and alumni all across Texas and the nation, success for Theta Chi at Texas State is a sure thing.

Your success can be a sure thing too! Choices are made every day and choosing the right fraternity is an important decision. Become a Theta Chi now and you will stay a Theta Chi for life.
