Job Description:

Axis/The Multicultural Agency (Austin), one of the nation's leading multicultural marketing agencies, is looking for an intern for its Austin office. If you are a self-starter with strong written and verbal communication skills, solid interpersonal skills, a "can-do" attitude and enjoy working in a fun, fast-paced environment, we want to hear from you.

You'll have the opportunity to work directly with our account teams on specific client-related projects, as well as agency-wide efforts. Ultimately, you'll end the internship with an understanding of how work flows through the agency and roles of different account teams, not to mention an overall experience that will benefit you in your future career endeavors.

Knowledge of computer programs such as Microsoft Word, Excel, and PowerPoint is required. A three-month commitment is requested. Written and oral Spanish fluency required.
