ABOUT THE PROGRAM:
May 23, 2017 - June 22, 2017

The city of Querétaro could be an appealing place for students because it is a mid-size city with a rich cultural and historical importance. The city is nearby Guanajuato, Dolores Hidalgo and San Miguel Allende, three cities with a rich cultural and historic background. Students will be taking the classes at the Técnológico de Monterrey, the largest private, higher education system in Mexico. Given the international knowledge and experience students will acquire while studying abroad in Querétaro they will be more competitive in today’s job market. Since most of the students would be Spanish majors or minor, the experience acquire during this program will be an important factor when teaching high school or middle students in the United States, or if they are hire in job that requires bilingual skills. There is no non-travel advisory on effect for Querétaro.
