We will be open all summer for your advising needs!
The Bachelor of General Studies is an interdisciplinary degree in which you integrate three Texas State minors and two General Studies courses to create a major oriented toward personal goals, varied interests, or a range of marketable skills.

The two General Studies courses “help students identify connections among their personal interests, three chosen minors, and career options” to show the “wide variety of employment options” available to students.

Students best suited for the Bachelor of General Studies degree find it difficult to choose just one major, “invested a large number of hours in another degree but wish to change academic goals,” or are students who have career goals or interests that could not be met in just one major.

For this and more, visit the Bachelor of General Studies (BGS) website at http://www.txstate.edu/ucollege/bgs.html or to discuss whether the major is right for you, call University College Advising Center at 512-245-2218.
