Clinical Practicum (COUN 5689) Manual

Revised November 2018

INTRODUCTION

The following pages are intended as an orientation to the Clinical Practicum course within the Professional Counseling Program at Texas State University. The Clinical Practicum is designed to provide a semester of highly supervised counseling experience prior to the Site-based Internship (COUN 5389). For each bolded word or group of words that follow, there is a corresponding form to be used in creating and maintaining a client's record. Originals of these forms can be found in the "Clinic Forms" binder and on TRACS.

Contacts:

Dr. Kathy Ybañez-Llorente- Program Coordinator

Dr. Tracy Calley- Practicum and Internship Coordinator/ Counseling Clinic Coordinator

GOALS AND OBJECTIVES

To successfully complete the Clinical Practicum, the student must log at least 100 clock-hours of counseling and administrative experiences, with at least 40 of these hours in direct contact with clients. Activities counting toward the 100 hours may include such professional activities as counseling, consultation, clinical supervision, and attending professional conferences. In the course of completing these activities, the student will be expected to demonstrate a wide variety of counseling techniques and communication skills, including, but not limited to, group and individual counseling interventions. Each week, the student must document hours engaged in these activities, and submit a weekly log to the clinical practicum professor (see Weekly Log of Counseling Activities form). Of the 40 direct contact hours required, 20 must be as a co-facilitator of a counseling group in the community. The group co-leader must be licensed by the state as an LPC-Intern, LPC, LPC-S, LMFT-Associate, LMFT, LMFT-S, LCSW, LMSW or be certified as a school counselor. At the end of the group experience, the group co-leader will complete a Group Co-Leader Rating Form which will be submitted to the Practicum professor.

- Direct client-contact hours: 20 hrs as a group co-facilitator, 20 hrs in the Practicum Clinic
 - Indirect hours: 60 hrs (supervision, consultation, etc)

STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES

- The student will demonstrate knowledge of the theoretical foundations of counseling, articulate their own professional philosophy and integrate this philosophy into practice.
 - The student will demonstrate appropriate intervention strategies that integrate theory, client assessment information, and accepted professional counseling skills while providing a safe and secure therapeutic environment.
 - The student will demonstrate a working knowledge of ethical standards, and an ability to exercise ethical, moral reasoning in all matters relative to professional practice.
 - The student will demonstrate a commitment to becoming a responsible and contributing member of the counseling profession.
 - The student will demonstrate an understanding of the ongoing relationship between personal self-care and professional effectiveness.
 - The student will demonstrate knowledge of basic statistics and research methodology, and integrate this knowledge into professional practice.
 - The student will demonstrate an understanding of the ways in which behavior, attitudes, and values impact professional relationships.
 - The student will demonstrate an understanding of how to assimilate and accommodate individual differences, including, but not limited to, differences of age, gender, race, ethnicity, sexual orientation, spirituality, socioeconomic class, and educational level, and implement this understanding in personal, professional and community relationships.

PREPARING FOR THE CLASS

Prior to seeing clients, proof of professional liability insurance must be shown to your professor. Showing a copy of the policy listing your name, the policy number and duration of the policy will meet this requirement. In addition, you will need to have your Group Co-Leader form completed and signed. Lastly, you will need to come to class with your Professional Disclosure Statement (you should have at least 5 copies). An example of this is also on TRACS and in both San Marcos and Round Rock clinics.

Clients seen in Clinical Practicum will be based on the Intermediate Methods course(s) that you have completed. For example, if you have taken Intermediate Methods for Adults (COU 5366), you will not be able to counsel children requiring play therapy, as you have not been trained to perform these skills.

PROFESSIONAL RESPONSIBILITIES

1. Maintain a professional image. As student counselors, your behavior, attire, and attitude reflect upon the department, university and the counseling profession in general. Consequently, it is important to maintain a professional image for the community, clients, peers and professors. There are several things you can do to enhance the image you project, including, but not limited to:

- Dressing appropriately and professionally when seeing clients;
- NEVER discussing cases outside of class;
- Not socializing in the client waiting area(s) or outside the clinic in the walkway;
- Maintaining the professional appearance of the clinic by keeping the rooms neat and clean. This includes returning chairs to rooms immediately after sessions and emptying trash containers as needed;
- Ensuring that play therapy toys are returned to their appropriate storage places, in a clean and orderly condition. Any broken toys should be left for the clinic director to repair or replace (Remember: toys are the children's words, and as such should be treated with care);
- Ensure that sand tray miniatures and sand trays are returned to their appropriate places. Also, ensure that miniatures are not taken out of the counseling room.

2. Know and practice within the current ACA Code of Ethics.

This includes, but is not limited to:

- Advocating for and maintaining confidentiality. The privacy of the counseling relationship and material shared therein belong to the client. Cases should not be discussed with anyone other than the University supervisor and other practicum students. Other than the legal exceptions to confidentiality, the client is the only one who can direct you to release information. Clients may also request access to their own records. Any request by a client for access to her/his records should be discussed first with your Professor/Supervisor. A guided access, (i.e., the clinician's interpretations of the information in the records) may be planned. Check with your supervisor before releasing records. Even in the case of a court order, you need consult with and get the approval of your Professor/Supervisor.

- Never reveal that your client is being seen in the counseling practicum clinic, unless you have written permission from the client. Even with written permission, you can only disclose information agreed upon by you and the client, and only to individuals listed on the consent form. If you experience pressure to reveal information from a parent, lawyer, or fellow mental health professional, immediately discuss this with your professor. Also, client files cannot be removed from the Practicum clinic. Files must remain double locked at all times in the clinic.
 - Contact with clients is limited to the semester you are enrolled in Clinical Practicum. All contact needs to go through the clinic phone. Should a client contact you outside of the Clinical Practicum course via email, social media, or other means, contact your University professor. The professor will contact the client.
- 3. Recordings
- The clinic software allows students to review session recordings securely off campus. If you decide to review any sessions while off campus, you must be able to maintain client confidentiality and not view sessions with other people around. You should never access or review sessions in a public place.

CLINICAL SUPERVISION

You will be provided a combination of supervision experiences, including, but not limited to:

- group and individual supervision with your university professor, provided in person during designated staffing hours or as scheduled by your professor;
- written comments/feedback from professor's review of audio/video tapes; and
- individual supervision with your site-based group co-facilitator.

A minimum of 1.5 hours of group supervision and 1 hour of individual supervision will be provided each week, according to CACREP requirements. See syllabus for arrangements.

Individual Supervision

Most sessions during your practicum experience will be observed live by your professor. Your professor may also come into your session when a "teachable moment," or a special client need occurs. Individual supervision will also occur during the course of the class, according to arrangements made between you and the professor. During supervision, if you plan to show a particular segment of a recorded session, be sure to have the recording set to the appropriate spot. Your session notes will be reviewed weekly and initialed by your University supervisor.

Group Supervision

Be prepared to request assistance and help from your peers and supervisor. This allows the entire group to learn from your concerns and helps you learn to utilize supervision in a productive and professional manner. You should review all of your sessions and bring prepared questions and professional concerns for individual and group supervision sessions. Refer to the syllabus regarding any additional requirements.

OBSERVATION GUIDELINES

As part of your class requirements, you are required to observe other students working with clients during class. This not only fosters your learning, it allows all students to receive feedback from multiple sources.

When observing:

- You are not to disclose or discuss material from the sessions you observe with anyone outside of class. At no time should you communicate directly with the clients you observe, or in any way acknowledge that you observed them. Remember that professional ethics apply to you even while observing.
- If you have any contact or relationship (current or former) with a client, you are prohibited from observing their sessions, and cannot participate in any group supervision concerning that client.
- There are designated Peer Feedback forms (for play therapy, sandtray and general sessions) for you to complete on the peer session you are observing. Providing your peers with feedback helps both you and the student receiving your input.

PREPARING TO SEE CLIENTS

Have your computer recorder set up and check the readiness/condition of the room before your client arrives. Make sure to have all paperwork ready for your clients as described below.

THE FIRST SESSION

- Prior to meeting the client, review the Telephone Intake Form completed by the person who received the referral. If there is missing information, try to collect it during the initial session. Pay particular attention to whether the client reported suicidal ideation, as this may necessitate the use of the No Harm Contract.
- Introduce yourself to your client(s). Give client(s) two Information for Clients forms (one for your record and one for their record), as well as one copy of your Professional Disclosure Statement. Inform the client that he/she does not have to sign any form until their questions are answered and they feel comfortable doing so. DO NOT simply summarize the forms. Informed consent requires that the client be given ample opportunity, without pressure, to fully read and understand any form before signing.

Sample statement: "Hi, my name is _____. I'm going to be your counselor. Before we can get started, I need for you to read over this information carefully and sign it. If you don't understand any of the information, or if you feel uncomfortable signing these forms for any reason, please let me know and we can discuss any questions or concerns you have once we get to the counseling room."

- Once your client(s) has completed the forms, escort them to the counseling room. Begin each initial session by addressing confidentiality and ensure that the client(s) fully understands the purpose, limits and ramifications of confidentiality. Explain that this is a training facility and you are a student in a professional counseling program. Because of this, make it clear that you will be receiving supervision from your professor and, potentially, classmates. Explain that the sessions may be viewed by other students, as well as why and how the sessions will be recorded in broad terms. Next, obtain their signature (if not already signed) and place one copy of the form in the file and give the second copy to the client. Clients cannot be seen in the clinic without signed informed consents, both for counseling and recording.

- Finally, based on the client's ability to pay, determine the fee that the client(s) will pay for services. You may say something like, "The fee for counseling is $20. If you can't afford that fee, let me know what you can afford and we set that as your fee." Should the client be unable to afford $20, ask, "What can you afford to pay?" Stress the importance of attendance and promptness as well as inform the client that sessions must be cancelled 24 hours in advance, when possible.
- Depending on the student's preferences, theoretical orientation, and/or the requirements of a particular professor, the first session is also an opportunity to gain background information on the client in a structured manner. Lifestyle Assessments are available for adults, children and parents. Also, there are several Assessment Forms available (General, Diagnostic, Family and Child) that can be used at either the first session, or at termination (see below).

TERMINATION

Termination begins 2-3 sessions before the final session. During that time, help the client determine whether further counseling is desired and/or warranted. Inform the client that another practicum class will be held during the following semester, and that they can see a counselor then if they prefer (NOTE: students can only see clients within the scope of the course).

Give your client an opportunity to complete a Client Rating of Assessment and Counseling Clinic form. Inform the client that they can complete the form and leave it in the counseling room or on the desk in the waiting room. Also, make sure the client understands how valuable their feedback is and how extensive the measures are to incorporate their feedback.

As appropriate, provide the client with a list of Community Referrals, along with emergency phone numbers. Also, complete a Termination Form after the final session. Instead of the termination form, you may be required by your professor to complete a Client Evaluation of Counseling form for the purposes of summarizing treatment, making recommendations and identifying progress. The primary purpose of both the termination form and the assessment forms is to provide an overview of the course of counseling (including goals achieved) and any recommendations for further services. When closed, the file should be current and complete, with all signed and relevant forms in reverse chronological order.

SESSION DOCUMENTATION

The session summaries serve to facilitate and document your conceptualization of the session in terms of both content and process. They also provide a documentation of the client's progress over the course of counseling. Keep in mind that these are official case notes--open to client and legal scrutiny. As such, what you document in the notes becomes part of the official record and should never be altered or deleted. (Note: There are Session Summary forms for the following: general therapy, play therapy, family therapy, sandtray therapy, art/activity therapy, and parent consult). The session notes should be written immediately following the session, accurately reflecting what happened in the session. Depending on the student's theoretical orientation and/or the requirements of the professor, the student may be required to complete a Treatment Plan for each client.

You are responsible for maintaining a file on each of your clients. Client files are kept in a locked file cabinet located in the secured file storage area in the clinic. All files must remain locked in the secured, designated area in the clinic, and should NEVER be removed from the clinic or left out overnight for any reason. The file cabinet should be kept locked at all times. Remember: all recordings and notes are confidential and should be handled accordingly.

CORRESPONDENCE

All official documents intended for correspondence concerning a client must be co-signed by your supervisor (for example: Consent for the Release of Confidential Records). This includes routine letters sent to clients. Any letter that contains clinical information, the services of the practicum clinic, or might be viewed as some form of contract or agreement must be co-signed by your professor. This procedure protects the counseling intern, the client, and the university.

REPORTING ABUSE OF CHILDREN, ELDERLY OR DISABLED PERSONS

- If, during the course of counseling, you suspect that a child, elderly or disabled person is being abused or has been abused, remind the client of your legal obligation to report. Obtain information that would be required for report to the Department of Protective and Regulatory Services. See Texas Family Code for report specifics. Inform your professor as soon as possible and document report to DPRS in the client file.
- It is preferable that you and your client report the abuse together. If, however, you are not physically present with the client, and, consequently, cannot be sure that the client has or will report the abuse, you must report it. You are required by law to make the report within 48 hours after learning of the possible abuse.

Dept. of Protective & Regulatory Services 1-800-252-5400
http://www.dfps.state.Texas.us/Contact_Us/report_abuse.asp

ASSESSING AND RESPONDING TO SUICIDE

- If, during the course of counseling, a client states or suggests suicidal ideation, a Suicide Assessment and Recommendation Form must be completed so that appropriate action can be taken for the safety of the client. Should the student counselor suspect that a client may be suicidal, the student counselor must immediately shift direction in counseling. This is true regardless of theory. The student counselor must be direct in order to fulfill the student counselor's ethical obligation to preserve the client's well-being (beneficence).
- Should a student counselor consider a client to be at moderate to high risk for attempting suicide, the student counselor will notify the University Supervisor and call the university police department at 512-245-2805 immediately after completing the assessment interview.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

1. For the 20 direct-client hours that are not group co-facilitation hours, are those made up of clients who come through the Texas State University practicum clinic and are assigned to me?

Yes, you will earn 20 direct client contact hours through one of our counseling clinics in San Marcos or Round Rock, under the supervision of a Counseling Faculty member.

2. How much time is spent in the classroom/week during practicum? Is it multiple days, or do you see all your clients/have class on the same day?

Depending on which section you are placed in, our Clinical Practicum classes are structured in one of two ways: 1] Practicum meets from 1 to 9pm (with the first half being a combination of individual and group supervision), time for a break, and then clients are seen in the clinic from 4pm to 8pm, paperwork from 8 to 9pm. 2] Practicum meets on 2 days: for example, Monday from 4 to 8pm for individual and group supervision, and Tuesday from 4 to 8pm clients are seen in the clinic, and paperwork. Typically, Round Rock is limited to the 1-9 pm option since the Program sends a faculty member to teach there only one day per week. San Marcos usually has the 2 days/week option, and one all-day option (depending on the number of sections of Practicum we need to offer that particular semester). Go to CatsWeb and pull up current, future, and past semester course offerings, which may provide an idea of the sections that have been offered in the past. Section offerings change based on faculty availability and need, but exploring CatsWeb is a good place to start.

3. Am I expected to co-create a group, or can I just be a co-leader for one that already exists?

You are expected to co-facilitate a group that already exists, alongside a licensed mental health practitioner (cannot be another graduate intern). You will earn 20 hours co-facilitating a group outside of the University clinic.

4. Can I carry over extra hours that I earn from Practicum into Internship?

No, hours cannot carry over from Clinical Practicum to Internship. These are two different courses.

5. Will I need to recruit clients for the clinic?

You will not be required to recruit clients for the clinic, as many clients continue with services from a previous semester, and the Program recruits clients from the community through regular ongoing efforts. Should caseload fall below necessary levels, student counselors may be encouraged to assist in recruitment of clients for practicum sections.

6. When do I see my first client?

During the longer Fall and Spring semesters, you will begin seeing clients during the second week of class. During the shortened Summer semester, you will begin seeing clients the first week of class to ensure you have the maximum amount of time to accrue experience in the clinic.

7. How do campus carry rules affect Clinical Practicum clinics in San Marcos and Round Rock?

Due to the presence of children and mental health concerns being addressed in the clinics, these settings are exempt from campus carry rules. Outside of each of the clinics, the following sign is clearly posted in English and Spanish: "Pursuant to Section 10.06 Penal Code (Trespass by license holder with a concealed handgun), a person licensed under Subchapter H, Chapter 411, Government Code (Handgun Licensing Law), may not enter this property with a concealed handgun." STUDENT LIABILITY INSURANCE: A COPY OF CURRENT POLICY MUST BE PROVIDED TO PROFESSOR BEFORE YOU MAY SEE A CLIENT IN THIS COURSE.

Please provide a copy of the face page of your insurance policy. Documentation must include your name, the company's name, policy number, and coverage period.

Required Text:

Other texts, readings in your chosen theory of alignment.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS:

CLINICAL EXPERIENCE: Log a minimum of 100 earned hours of counseling activities, 40 of which must be direct client contact: generally split between 20 hours in the Assessment & Counseling Clinic and 20 hours in co-leading a group in the community/school.

INDIVIDUAL/TRIADIC SUPERVISION: One hour weekly, and after sessions with clients

GROUP SUPERVISION: One and one half hours per week

1) Be prepared to fully discuss your counseling sessions from the previous week.

- a) Review recording of each session before coming to supervision
 - b) Identify what went well in session and assisted in the movement of the session: identify process and content
 - c) Identify where the session got off track, what contributed to it going off track, what changes are planned for the next session.
- 2) Be prepared show a few minutes of your session recording to share in supervision; it can be either a section which went well, or a spot where you would like some help.
 - 3) Be able to frame all the above in your theoretical perspective.
 - 4) Turn in Weekly Log of Counseling Activities form; sessions forms; self-evaluation form for each session
 - 5) Discussion of such issues as:
 - a) Consultation in the community, school, and various agencies and inherent ethical issues;
 - b) Advocacy for clients in areas of public policy and government relations issues;
 - c) Professional development (acquisition of a temporary license, membership in state and national organizations, issues regarding managed care, etc.)

CLINICAL EXPERIENCE

Individual/Couple/Family/Play Therapy: Client Appointment Times: 4:00pm, 5:00pm, 6:00pm, 7:00pm

- 1) See clients in during the four clinic hours.
 - a) Each session will last 50 minutes.
 - b) Any other appointment time must be cleared and pre-approved; you must always have a supervisor present. This will be extremely rare.
- 2) During any appointment time without a client, the practicum student will be expected to observe a peer and provide both written and verbal feedback. This is a mandatory part of your practicum experience.

Group counseling co-facilitation hours: as arranged by the student

- 3) Co-lead a group in the community (school or agency -- the setting is of the practicum student's choice to meet individual career and professional growth goals). The group may be of any type or format (psycho-educational, guidance group, preventative, or therapeutic).
- 4) Co-leader must be licensed or certified in his/her mental health field.
- 5) The co-leader will sign off on hours and assess the practicum-counselor on the Texas State form before the end of the semester
- 6) This experience may begin the first week of the semester. As this is a crucial site for logging clinical hours, please make every attempt to begin the first week.

ATTENDANCE

Attendance, punctuality, and full participation at all meetings, clinic hours, and group supervision sessions is mandatory. The supervising professor must authorize any absence due to an emergency or exceptional condition. Attend class fully prepared to participate in discussion or experience, depending on the class focus. You are subject to expulsion from the class for unexcused absences, excessive lateness, or for excused absences in excess of 10 % of the seminar or 10% of the clinic hours. Be advised that the greatest consequence of missing class would be an inability to meet client contact requirements and lack of consistency for client care in sessions. If an emergency or illness arises, advise the University Professor immediately via email and phone; verification may be required. You will also be responsible for any client contact that may be necessary as a result of missing sessions.

EVALUATION

This course is not simply collecting client contact hours. Your work must be considered quality counseling by your supervisor(s) before passing this class. An active involvement with clients, supervisor, group, and fellow classmates is essential to meet the requirements of this class. This includes, but is not limited to, the following:

- Attendance, punctuality, and professional participation in all clinic activities, supervision, and group activities;
- Presentations and networking to maintain client base (if needed);
- Observing sessions and giving written and oral feedback to classmates;
- Receiving, critically assessing, and integrating feedback.
- Quality case presentations
 - Record all sessions
 - Review all recorded sessions and identify the sections you want to discuss
 - View sections with classmates and/or instructor
 - Have your completed session notes with you when you discuss/present a case
 - Share your plans/goals for a client's next session (consistent with theory)
 - Keep your session reports and weekly log up to date
 - Be able to frame all the above from your theoretical perspective.
- Session transcriptions (as assigned)
- Outside reading for particular clients or situations
- Specific reading and written assignments required by your supervisor throughout the semester
- Discussion of issues such as
 - Consultation in the community, school, and various agencies inherent ethical issues
 - Advocacy for clients in areas of public policy and government relations issues
 - Professional development (acquisition of a temporary license, membership in state and national organizations, issues: re: managed care, etc.)

Students will receive a Credit (CR) or Fail (F) for this course. If the student demonstrates skill progress, but it is not yet at an acceptable level of skill by the end of the semester, a grade of "PR" for Progress rather than an "F" for Fail may be given for the course. If the student does not complete the required number of client contact hours, a grade of "PR" may be given. In case of a "PR" the student will need to register and pay for another semester of the course. ALL WRITTEN AND VERBAL FEEDBACK SHOULD BE CONSIDERED AS AN EVALUATION OF YOUR PROGRESS. NOTE: This is a clinical practicum course. As such, each student will have a Professional Counselor Performance Evaluation completed. As a clinical practicum course, there is a minimum skill level that must be attained and maintained in order to meet minimum criteria. A student cannot have below "meets criteria" on any item scored and pass this course. Many students benefit from a second semester of practicum. This should not be seen as unusual or atypical.

Honor Code:

To support the goal of maintaining a climate of academic integrity, Texas State University has adopted the Texas State University Honor Code. The Honor Code applies to all academic activities and academic work, whether these take place on-campus, off-campus, or online. Texas State expects students to engage in all academic pursuits in a manner that is beyond reproach. Students found in violation of the Honor Code are subject to disciplinary action. Information on the Honor Code and related processes is located at <http://www.Texasstate.edu/honorcodecouncil/>

Accommodations for Disabilities:

If you are a student with a disability who will require an accommodation(s) to participate in this course, please contact the instructor as soon as possible. You will be asked to provide documentation from the Office of Disability Services. Failure to contact the instructor in a timely manner may delay your accommodations. For information on how to register a disability and on a range of support services, visit the Office of Disability Services website at <http://www.ods.Texasstate.edu/>

Student Resources:

For additional information on diversity connections, counseling and mental health services, sexual assault resources, sexual misconduct/Title IX procedures, and new graduate student information visit the Syllabus Policies & Student Resources page at <http://www.Texasstate.edu/clas/about/Department-Policies/Syllabus-Policies-and-Student-Resources.html>

Due to the presence of children and mental health concerns being addressed in the clinics, these settings are exempt from campus carry rules. _____ is an advanced graduate student in our Professional Counseling Program and is currently enrolled in COUN 5689, Clinical Practicum. This Clinical Practicum experience includes counseling clients under my supervision in our Assessment and Counseling Clinic at the San Marcos/Round Rock campus and attending a group supervision seminar. As part of the requirements for the course, our students are also required to participate as a co-leader of a counseling group. This student is seeking your permission to participate with you in co-leading a group for 20 hours during this semester.

The student's role is to support you, to participate in planning and implementing group techniques and intervention strategies, to take part in preparing progress notes, and to receive feedback from you on his/her counseling skills when co-facilitating the actual group. Attached you will find an evaluation checklist to facilitate the evaluation process and I ask that you complete it with the student as a means of providing specific feedback. If issues arise that are of concern to you or the student, please inform me as soon as possible so that instructional, administrative, or remediation actions may be accomplished. I may be reached at the university via email or at the phone numbers listed above.

As you know, counseling skills cannot all be learned from reading, discussion, or observation. Students pursuing this co-facilitation experience are advanced graduate students who have completed foundational course requirements, a group process course, a basic skills course, and an intermediate methods course and are ready, under supervision, to practice their group counseling skills with clients this semester.

Please sign and return this consent to supervise, along with documentation of your professional licensure or certification and documentation of liability insurance protection. The student is required to carry their own liability insurance, as are the professors who are duly licensed professionals in the State of Texas.

We very much appreciate your willingness to contribute to our student's professional development. If I may be of assistance to you anytime throughout the semester, please let me know.

CONFIDENTIALITY AGREEMENT

Students in the Texas State University Professional Counseling Program have access to and work with confidential records of actual clients from the Texas State Assessment and Counseling Clinic.

Two factors relative to student access of client records during the clinical education process must be stressed:

1. Legally, the information in the client's record belongs to the client. A violation of client confidential information from the client's record has serious legal and ethical consequences.
2. The Code of Ethics of the American Counseling Association and rules of the Texas State Board of Examiners for Licensed Professional Counselors stipulate that confidentiality of client information is a part of professional responsibility and integrity.

Due to these legal and ethical considerations, any student enrolled in the Professional Counseling program who reveals contents of a client's record, except as it relates to the educational process in the classroom or at a clinical site, is subject to a referral to a Program Standards Committee and a completed Professional Counseling Performance Evaluation.

I _____, attest to the following:

- (1) I understand the Professional Counseling Client Confidentiality Policy and Procedure Statement;
- (2) I understand that the penalty for violation of a client's confidentiality will result in a referral to a Programs Standard Committee, and could result in disciplinary action, up to failing the clinical course or removal from the Professional Counseling Program;
- (3) I agree to maintain the confidentiality of client information to which I am exposed as a Professional Counseling Program student.
