02.03 Flame resistant (FR) clothing is defined as garments designed for wear by designated employees as PPE to reduce the potential risk of an arc flash exposure while working near an energized circuit.

02.04 PPE commonly issued to FacOps employees includes, but is not limited to, FR clothing, hard hats, protective eyewear, face shields, respirators, hearing protection, reflective vests, gloves, knee pads, and safety footwear.

03. UNIFORM WEAR PROCEDURES:

03.01 Uniform requirements:

a. All trade shop employees will be provided official work shirts upon start of employment within FacOps.

b. Employees who are provided official work shirts are expected to wear them throughout their assigned shift. Exception: If actively engaged in a work activity where the heat index is 95 degrees or higher, employees have the option to remove their official work shirt and wear a Facilities T-shirt instead. Employees can obtain the current local heat index (Feels Like) temperature by accessing the pre-installed Weather application on his/her University-owned electronic device.

d. Replacement University-issued clothing will be provided on an as-needed basis at the discretion of the employee’s shop supervisor and approved by the FacOps Director.

e. Electrician’s will be provided FR clothing (shirts and pants). The FR shirts and pants must be worn as the official work uniform at all times the employee is working on campus. FR shirts must also be worn with sleeves rolled down for maximum arc flash exposure protection. Exception: Electricians may elect to remove their FR shirts while actively working in conditions where the heat index is 95 degrees or higher, if they are not engaged in a work activity on energized circuits. Electricians must wear a Facilities T-shirt if the FR shirt is removed.
