Maximum Vacation Carryover to New Fiscal Year

Below is a chart showing the maximum amount of vacation leave that may be carried over into the new fiscal year. Any hours over the allowable amount on August 31, 2018 will automatically be converted to sick leave as of September 1, 2018. These amounts are for full-time employees. The carryover amount for a part-time employee is proportional to their FTE. For example, a 50% employee with less than two years of service may carry over up to 90 hours.

If you have a vacation balance that exceeds the maximum carryover, you may want to start scheduling some vacation leave now. You must take the vacation time by August 31, 2018 if you do not want the excess hours rolled into your sick leave balance.

UPDATE

University Leave Policy Updates

As part of the regular review cycle, UPPS 04.04.30 University Leave Policy has just been published with some significant changes. Highlights include:

FACULTY SICK LEAVE SECTION 4.10
Clarification has been added that faculty must report sick leave taken even if no classes are missed. Faculty must report sick leave for the actual time missed from carrying out their normal, negotiated workload responsibilities (teaching, research, and service). Sick leave taken is to be reported in hours, including partial day absences.

SICK LEAVE DONATION TO AN INDIVIDUAL SECTION 4.13
A new section has been added outlining the rules for an individual to donate sick leave to another individual. This is in addition to the Sick Leave Pool benefit.

HEALTH CARE LEAVE FOR VETERANS SECTION 10.01
This is a new section outlining the benefit for veterans to use paid leave to obtain services at a VA facility. The maximum is 15 days per fiscal year and is in addition to the employee’s sick leave.

LEAVE WITHOUT PAY FOR STAFF SECTION 13
The maximum allowable period for leave without pay has been reduced from 12 months to 6 months. Also, leave without pay longer than 30 days may be approved by the department head and does not require VP approval.

RECORD KEEPING PROCEDURES SECTION 16
Clarification has been added to outline the two methods of time reporting for both faculty and staff – 1) online entry via SAP Portal Self-Service or 2) completion of a paper time report signed by the employee, supervisor, and entered into SAP by the departmental time administrator.

Deadlines are formally established for reporting additional hours worked and time taken off. Using the self-service method, time is to be entered and approved weekly. If the paper time report method is used, the form must be completed, signed and entered no later than the 5th business day after the end of the calendar month.

If an oversight has occurred, retroactive corrections can still be made. However, in no case will additional hours worked be accepted more than 12 months after the work was performed.
How to complete an employment verification?

The employment verification of candidates recommended for hire is a required action in the hiring process. The tool provided for the verification is useful for verifying facts and obtaining information about the candidate. The university requires two employment verifications to be attached in PeopleAdmin’s Rec for Hire.

Access the Employment Verification Form | Access directions for completing this action in PeopleAdmin

Building a Culture of Health in Your Work Unit
Janet Bezner, PT, DPT, PhD, FAPTA, WellCats Leadership Team

There is a lot of talk about taking “personal responsibility” for health in the popular press and in medical journals. After all, the real reason chronic diseases are the leading cause of death and disability is because people can’t stick with preventive behaviors like physical activity and healthy eating, right? Sort of. While healthy behaviors like regular physical activity, healthy eating, regular sleep, not smoking, and stress management are important contributors to health, your physical and social environment have a greater influence on your health. How can that be, you ask?

Here’s how: A culture of health encourages everyone, including businesses, to maximize good health and well-being. Employees are more likely to perform healthy behaviors if they are supported by the culture and environment. Cultures and environments can support health by changing workplace norms and adopting policies that support healthy choices. The ingredients of a culture of health are outlined below, along with some examples of how you can implement them.

01 LEADERSHIP SUPPORT
Leaders engage in healthy behaviors and support employees to prioritize self-care.

02 EMPLOYEE WELLNESS PROGRAM
The WellCats program at Texas State is designed to provide opportunities at work so employees can prioritize their health and wellness.

03 GOALS AND STRATEGIES
The 2017-2023 University Plan contains an objective to “Provide programs and services that support and enhance the health and wellness of the university community.” Department plans can align their plans with this objective and create an objective to support health.

04 DEDICATED RESOURCES
The WellCats program is free for employees, numerous facilities on campus are available for employees (Aquatic Center, Jowers gyms, campus walking routes).

05 COMMUNICATION
Weekly e-newsletters are available through the WellCats program containing health-related information, a website exists containing resources and Human Resources and WellCats champions promote health and wellness within departments.

06 ENVIRONMENTAL SUPPORT
The physical environment supports health in numerous ways through facilities and opportunities to move. Social support from co-workers and supervisors is provided when employees discuss health, share success stories, share information, invite others to wellness classes, and role model healthy behavior.

The WellCats team invites employees to find ways to engage that work for you. Help us build a culture of health at Texas State University.
There will be no GED sessions in July. Please mark your calendars for the August dates.

IN THE SPOTLIGHT: EMPLOYEE OF THE MONTH

Aaron Noto
Construction Coordinator, Facilities Planning Design and Construction (FPDC)

EMPLOYEE OF THE MONTH
June 2018

During his time with the FPDC department, Aaron has demonstrated excellence in customer service and a willingness to learn and grow in his position. His demeanor towards others exemplifies the mission and standards of Texas State University. Recently, Aaron’s counterpart on the Health Professions Building project took a leave of absence and Aaron stepped up to manage the construction site, as well as, all administrative aspects of the project. This demonstrates his leadership skills and willingness to complete a project with the University’s best interest in mind. He truly is a great asset to the FPDC team.

The process of constructing a building from literally the ground up can be a daunting endeavor. Over a two-year period there were many meetings with a variety of people such as administrators, architects, builders/contractors, plumbers, electricians, interior designers, and many others. Aaron worked closely with all these people, department chairs, faculty and staff of Communication Disorders, Physical Therapy, and Respiratory Care to ensure all their concerns and questions were addressed every step of the way.

Aaron was always available to answer questions or make adjustments to ensure all parties are happy. Close to completion, faculty decided that the selected and installed tile for a clinic area was not going to work because the pattern might make clinic patients a little dizzy. Aaron was able to get a different tile ordered for installation without missing a beat. He made it seem effortless.

Every time Aaron comes for a meeting, he brings new pictures and enthusiastically shares them as if he was sharing pictures of his children. In essence, he is the father of Willow Hall, having been there from day one when the ground was broken, managed all construction phases, and now can step back and be proud of what his hard work and dedication has accomplished, a beautiful and functional academic building, Willow Hall.

“Aaron has demonstrated excellence in customer service and a willingness to learn and grow in his position.”

Congratulations, Aaron, on your dedication, professionalism and hard work!
The May Texas State Quarterly Team Award was presented to the Vice President of Student Affairs Office Team. The team members include: Kevin McCarty, Chris Lehman, Jessica Soukup, David Cole and Amy Hilton.

The service was provided to the Division of Student Affairs as a whole (over 450 employees), but more importantly to University Police Department (UPD), Department of Housing and Residential Life (DHRL) and Campus Recreation. DHRL found themselves without support for their new reservation system (Star Res), UPD found themselves needing new programming and upgrades and Campus Recreation found themselves with no in-house support for the many systems they run. The VPSA IT Team also works hard to bridge relationships across campus and work very closely with IT Security prior to bringing new software to campus.

The VPSA IT staff works for all offices in the division of student affairs. However, in the last 6 months because of losing IT staff within the offices mentioned above, the VPSA IT staff have had to fully support these offices. The VPSA staff worked diligently to get up to speed on software that was new to them and has continued to fully support these offices in addition to the rest of the division.

This was accomplished by reorganizing the VPSA office staff and workloads to fully support these new endeavors and assist with the hiring for staff who had left the university.

The VPSA Office team was able to have Star Res ready when the time came for new incoming students to make their selections for residence halls for next year. This kept the project on schedule and the DHRL was able to start their housing reservations as planned. UPD and Campus Recreation have also benefitted from the reorganization of the VPSA IT office staff to support their many services.

This VPSA IT Team is outstanding because they support a very large division and when needed, always step up to go the extra mile to make sure everyone has the operating systems in place they need. They are an extremely talented group of individuals.

"they support a very large division and when needed, always step up to go the extra mile..."

Congratulations to the Vice President of Student Affairs Office Team on its achievements and outstanding efforts!
