ERS SUMMER ENROLLMENT FAIR

July 18, 2017
10 a.m. - 1 p.m.
JCK 11th Floor

10:30 a.m. presentation
ERS and Blue Cross/Blue Shield of Texas will make a brief presentation to address the switch from United Healthcare to BCBS as the third party administrator for HealthSelect.

No registration required – Attendance may be counted as work time with supervisor approval.

HealthSelect Transition to BlueCross BlueShield

The ERS Board of Trustees selected Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Texas (BCBSTX) for a six-year contract to administer the HealthSelect medical plans. BCBSTX will take over as the third party administrator for HealthSelect and Consumer Directed HealthSelect beginning September 1, 2017.

ERS manages the contract and is responsible for determining eligibility and enrollment for the health plans. Additionally, ERS establishes the plan design including setting copays, coinsurance, and deductibles.

In the coming months, you will receive letters that talk about the transition. You should continue to use your current United Healthcare insurance card through August 31, 2017.

Optum RX will still provide prescription coverage
HMO participants are not affected by this change
Real Appeal will continue to be an option for HealthSelect participants, along with a new option called Naturally Slim
Beginning September 1, virtual visits will be available with no copay. The current $10 copay is in place until August 31.

For more information about the transition visit ERS: www.ers.state.tx.us/BCBSTX-new-plan-administrator/.
Congratulations, Texas State!

We successfully closed out the first full cycle of the new staff Performance Management process. Thank you for your participation and cooperation during our first year of implementation.

We heard you!

Throughout the year, our team received valuable, constructive feedback on how to improve the online process. We’ve taken all your comments under consideration and are now working behind the scenes to implement changes to meet your needs.

Stay tuned!

The upgrades made to the system, along with instructions on how to complete the performance plan given these changes, will be announced soon.

Thank you once again for your continued support to this important initiative!
Maximum Vacation Carryover to New Fiscal Year

Below is a chart showing the maximum amount of vacation leave that may be carried over into the new fiscal year. Any hours over the maximum amount on August 31, 2017 will automatically be converted to sick leave as of September 1, 2017.

Supervisors and departmental time administrators have access to SAP transaction ZPTVTOS – Vacation to be Converted to Sick. This report will show the maximum number of vacation hours that an employee can carry over to the next fiscal year based on the monthly vacation accrual. Also displayed are the projected hours that will convert to sick leave on September 1. All time entry must be entered and approved to get accurate results.

Texas State law has established requirements for interviewing veterans. Hiring managers should review the following to insure you are meeting these legal requirements.

- Hiring managers or coordinators must review the PeopleAdmin applicant list of Veteran’s Preference Verified applicants. Hiring managers, coordinators, or screening committee will determine the verified applicants meet minimum requirements of the position and interviewed as required and note the interview in the hiring matrix.

- If the number of candidate interviewed is between one and six; then one veteran’s preference verified applicant that meets minimum requirements of the job posting must be interviewed. The Office of Equity and Access will review the hiring matrix and determine compliance with Texas State Government Code Chapter 657.
Enhancing the Benefits of Wellness at Work Through Communication

Stephanie Dailey & Tricia Burke, Assistant Professors in the Department of Communication Studies

Today, most employers offer wellness programs to their employees. For example, here at Texas State, faculty and staff have the opportunity to participate in WellCats, which offers fitness and nutrition classes, health behavior change coaching, and more. The benefits of having healthy employees is obvious from an organizational standpoint, but our research shows that there are direct benefits to employees as well: they feel supported, less stressed, and make new friends in wellness. So, how can you enhance the benefits of wellness at work through communication?

Support

As humans, one of our most central needs includes feeling valued by others. People who participate in workplace wellness programs feel that their employer cares about their personal well-being. When employees are socialized within an organization that values the health of their employees, they also communicate support to encourage their co-workers to be healthy. Some examples of supportive communication include:

- complementing co-workers on healthy diet or exercise choices
- inviting a co-worker to a fitness class or a lunch ‘n learn session
- reminding co-workers about avoiding unhealthy foods

De-Stress

Among the many benefits of wellness is reducing stress. Group fitness participants report less stress, better mental energy, and greater energy and productivity throughout their work day. Encouraging activity among co-workers affords an important mental break, and also allows for the opportunity to establish social connections at work.

Make Friends

It’s more fun to work out and eat healthy with friends. Thankfully, participating in wellness activities helps employees create friendships within the program and bond over subjects besides work. One of the best predictors of job satisfaction are the relationships we establish at work, so don’t be afraid to communicate about health with colleagues. After all, friends who sweat together stay together!

Rita has provided tremendous administrative support to the St. David’s School of Nursing since she began working with the school in August 2009. Her title is Administrative Assistant III, but she serves as budget analyst, receptionist, event coordinator, purchaser, travel agent, and hiring manager. She handles all these critical roles with professionalism and pride in a job well done. Rita excels in all aspects of her job duties that include support to the Director of the School of Nursing.

She is personally committed to meeting work deadlines and submitting quality work products, allowing the director to focus on higher level management projects.

The school of nursing is growing at a fast pace and Rita assists with faculty hiring for the undergraduate and graduate programs offered. She has mastered the hiring process and has been able to guide the search committee chairs, ensuring all university regulations are followed and that the paperwork for the new hires flow smoothly and efficiently to meet the high demands of the program.

Another area Rita excels in is budget management. She has monitored over 2.5 million in grant funds awarded to the school by the St. David’s Foundation. She keeps accurate balances on all accounts and provides requested information promptly.

Rita goes the extra mile on each and every tasks that is assigned to her. Many work colleagues praise her for being professional, ethical, a problem solver and doing whatever is necessary for the success of the team.
