Abstract: This talk will discuss how I have used Mental Mathematics to train students from Mathworks Junior Math Summer Camp for many years. Also I will discuss how this semester I have been teaching PhD students (this country’s future math teachers/trainers) in Math7378F (Research on Mathematical Problem Solving in Secondary Schools) to learn Mental Mathematics. This might suggest a new research area in the department’s Mathematics Education PhD program.