Tips for Successfully Navigating the Dissertation Process

Alexander White
Department of Mathematics
Texas State University

1:00 pm in Derr 238
August 28, 2014

Abstract: In this first seminar of the year, I will discuss a few key topics which have arisen over the years as our students are working their way through the dissertation. The talk should be of use to students thinking about the dissertation, writing their dissertation proposal, or finishing their dissertation.