News from Undergraduate Research at Texas State University (www.txstate.edu/undergraduateresearch):

Would you like to present your work at a national academic conference?

The National Council on Undergraduate Research is holding their annual conference on March 26-28, 2020 at Montana State University in Bozeman, Montana.
They are accepting abstract applications this month, with a final deadline of Dec 6, 2019.

Please submit your abstract for review to ugresearch@txstate.edu by Monday, Dec 2, before the deadline. The Honors College will only support pre-approved abstracts.

We also invite you to join us on Nov. 20 for Wednesday Night Writes, 6:00-8:00 pm in LAMP 501, where we will present helpful hints on writing a strong abstract.

Information regarding abstract submission and the link to the official application and is found here. Be aware there are campus sources for travel funds available for you to present at a conference, once your submission is accepted.
