Commencement Address

FRED W. HELDENFELS
Saturday, August 11, 2007
9:30 a.m.

Fred W. Heldenfels IV is a member of the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board and president and chief executive officer of Heldenfels Enterprises, Inc., a company headquartered in San Marcos that specializes in the manufacture and installation of precast/prestressed concrete structures.

The Heldenfels name has been associated with construction in Texas since Hugo Heldenfels arrived in the United States in 1864. Through several generations, the business has grown and touched practically every major construction arena in Texas, including expressways, bridges, subdivisions, industrial plants, office buildings, parking garages, water treatment plants, airports and sports venues, including Reliant Stadium, Minute Maid Park and the SBC Center.

Heldenfels says of his company, “Heldenfels Enterprises has grown into a team of dedicated professionals and skilled craftsmen, of which I’m very proud. Every team member takes pride in our ability to meet demanding schedules and challenging designs when it comes to building large or complex structures with prestressed concrete.”

A 1979 graduate of Texas A&M University with a bachelor’s degree in business administration, Heldenfels has been active in the San Marcos and Corpus Christi communities and within his profession. He has served as a member of the San Marcos Economic Development Board, a senior advisory director for Frost National Bank-Corpus Christi, as chairman of Citizens Against Lawsuit Abuse of Central Texas, as chairman of the Precast/Prestressed Concrete Institute, as a member of the Texas A&M-Corpus Christi Foundation Board of Trustees and as chair of the Corpus Christi Chamber of Commerce.

He has also remained loyal to his alma mater, having served as president of the Texas A&M Twelfth Man Foundation and as a member of the Texas A&M Association of Former Students.

COMMENCEMENT REGALIA

The gowns, caps, and hoods worn at university functions date back to the early days of the oldest universities in the Middle Ages. Monks and students wore them to keep warm in the damp and drafty twelfth century halls of learning. This traditional academic dress has been gradually revised to the modern form you see today.

All gowns have a semi-stiff yoke, long pleated front, and intricate shirring across the shoulders and back. The bachelor's gown is worn closed, reaches between 8 and 10 inches from the floor, and has long sleeves from which the arms exit at the wrist. The master's gown may be worn open or closed and has long pointed sleeves closed at the end, the forearm coming through a slit near the elbow, with the flowing sleeve extending down the thigh. The doctor's gown may also be worn either open or closed but is distinguished by broad velvet panels down the front and by three velvet bars on the full bell-shaped sleeves. This velvet trimming may be either black or the color distinctive of the field of learning.

The black cap with maroon and gold tassel is worn by holders of a bachelor's and master's degree; the black velvet tam with gold tassel is worn by holders of a doctoral degree.

The hood (usually not worn by holders of the bachelor's degree) is a black shell, silk-lined in the color or colors of the institution conferring the degree. The colors of Texas State University-San Marcos are shown by a maroon lining crossed with a gold chevron. The velvet border of the hood is the color signifying the field of learning in which the degree was earned and not in the department in which the major was done. Thus, a degree conferred as master of education with a major in physical education requires the light blue of education rather than the sage of physical education. Similarly, the "doctor of philosophy" degree requires the royal of philosophy, not the color of the department in which the major of study was done.

Colors signifying various fields of learning, which you may see today, include:

THE CEREMONIAL MACE

The use of a mace during university graduation ceremonies combines symbolic communication with the principle of vested authority at the most traditional and sacred of academic celebrations. The Texas State University mace is made of bronze and walnut and displays the university seal in maroon and gold relief. Beneath the seal is a metal base inscribed with the words-AUCTORITAS, GRAVITAS, HUMANITAS and VERITAS. These words come down to us from antiquity and represent our shared academic values:

Auctoritas: The sense of one's standing gained through experience, industriousness and service to others.

Gravitas: A sense of dignity, seriousness and duty.

Humanitas: An appreciation for refinement, civilization, and learning.

Veritas: Truthfulness.

The mace adds meaning and dignity to the commencement ritual. It reminds both participants and spectators that education is one of the most cherished attributes of a free and democratic society.
