IS YOUR STUDENT WORKER GRADUATING IN MAY?

Don’t forget to initiate the separation process

This is a reminder to be sure to initiate the separation process for your student workers who are graduating this semester or who will not be working this summer.

After your student works their last day and all of their time entry is completed, prepare a Separation E-PCR and send it to the Human Resources Master Data Center for processing. The simplest way to verify time entry is by using SAP transaction CATS_DA.

Questions may be directed to the HR Master Data Center or call 5.2557.

More information can be found on our Student PCR Processing website.

THE HIDDEN COSTS OF SITTING
Contributing Author: Brittney Duke, DPT Student and WellCats Champion

In this day and age, time is money. We feel pressure to respond to all emails, return every call and limit most breaks between the hours of 8am-5pm. But what price do our bodies pay? According to a leading cancer specialist, Dr. David Agus, “five or more hours of sedentary sitting is the health equivalent of smoking a pack of cigarettes.”

This statement is based on evidence that prolonged sitting causes enzymes that break down fat to essentially stop doing their job. An increase in fat storage can clog the heart, raise blood pressure, and lead to unhealthy weight gain. Blood can also pool in your legs causing poor circulation, numbness, and varicose veins.

You might be thinking, “Great, what now?” Here are some simple things you can do so that sitting doesn’t get the best of you:

- Stand up every 20 minutes. Even a quick stretch or walk down the hall makes a difference. You can download the Stand Up! The Work Break Timer app to give you reminders.

- Sit properly. Elbows should be at 90 degrees with the keyboard at your belly button. Give yourself low back support with a pillow or properly cushioned chair. Feet should be flat on the floor. Keep your shoulders back (not rounded forward) and your ears aligned with your mid-shoulder. Think of keeping your chin back and on top of your collar bone.

- Consider a standing desk. Check out the Ergonomia Height Adjustable Standing Sit to Stand Desk Riser on Amazon.com.

- Have a walking meeting. Instead of gathering in the conference room, have a walking meeting inside or outside to discuss work matters.

And, think of it this way – physical activity is GOOD for you for many reasons, so sit less and move more and you’ll kick sitting to the curb.
Applying for another position at Texas State?
PeopleAdmin User Update on the Internal Application Process

The Office of Human Resources and Core Systems is preparing to integrate data from SAP to PeopleAdmin (Texas State job application portal). In preparation for the integration project, employee accounts in PeopleAdmin were reconciled and duplicate accounts were deactivated. When accounts are deactivated users no longer have access to old applications and documents uploaded to the deactivated account.

How does this update affect me?
Current Texas State employees are reminded to use the Texas State employee link when applying for another position at Texas State.

When the Current Texas State employee link is not used, another user account is created limiting access to old applications and documents. Employees who have applied for a Texas State position not using the Texas State link may encounter a deactivated account.

If assistance is needed with a deactivated account, please contact the Employment team at hr@txstate.edu.
How Pay Grades are Determined

Every staff job title in the university staff pay plan at Texas State University is assigned a pay grade. There are 52 pay grades designed to keep our salaries competitive with similar jobs in the related job market.

The Compensation Team determines the pay grade of your job by comparing your duties with similar jobs in local and university job markets and looking for a market match to determine competitive salary. When no match can be found for a title, management makes a decision on which pay grade is appropriate.

In our pay plan, Classified positions have both a pay plan minimum and maximum. Unclassified positions have only a pay plan minimum. You can see the pay grade for your position on the University Pay Plan. More about how salaries are set can be found in the University’s Compensation Philosophy.
Thanks for supporting our recent events!

The Office of Human Resources recently hosted our 2019 Financial Planning & Retirement Fair and first-ever Come for Coffee event. Our team also helped organize and participated in the Spring 2019 Texas State Resources Fair.

We enjoyed speaking with fellow Bobcats at these events, and sharing information about HR benefits and resources.

Did you miss one of our events? Find more information about each event below.

Financial Planning & Retirement Fair

Our Benefits team hosted the annual Financial Planning & Retirement Fair on April 10 in the LBJSC Ballroom. The theme this year was ‘Get on Track’ and attendees had the opportunity to meet financial advisors and hear from retirement experts.

The fair also featured workshops led by the Social Security Administration (SSA), Employees Retirement System (ERS), Teacher Retirement System of Texas (TRS), Texas State Human Resources and a retirees panel. Handouts from some presentations are available on the Financial Planning & Retirement Fair website.

For more information about retirement visit the Benefits website or contact hr@txstate.edu.
Come for Coffee

On May 17, HR hosted our first Come for Coffee event in JCK 1100. Employees met with various HR team members and learned more about upcoming initiatives, as well as new services and resources - all while enjoying a cup of joe. Our team enjoyed talking to employees, and hearing about the HR resources and learning opportunities that are most important to them. It was a successful event and we look forward to more in the future!

Texas State Resources Fair

Despite the cold and construction - the Mardi Gras-themed Spring Resources Fair hit a new attendance record! On March 5, the Staff Resources Committee welcomed 265 attendees to the LBJSC Ballroom - up from 239 last spring. We also welcomed new department reps and had a very special VIP guest – Boko!

Attendees enjoyed information provided by departments, activities, the Mardi Gras theme, the raffle and grand prizes.

A special thank you for all of you who participated and attended. We look forward to more improvements for our future staff resources fairs!

More information about staff resources is available on the Staff Resources website.

IN THE SPOTLIGHT: EMPLOYEE OF THE MONTH

Fasiha Feroz
Administrative Assistant III,
Office of Disability Services (ODS)

EMPLOYEE OF THE MONTH
April 2019
Throughout her career at Texas State University, Fasiha has shown exemplary leadership and dedication to the University, its students, and the office she currently serves in order to ensure that individuals with disabilities have equal access to all university programs and activities. She exhibits professional customer service, is proficient in Microsoft Office software and Texas State University technology and information systems, and has the ability to work on multiple tasks simultaneously.

Fasiha has one of the most critical roles in the ODS, which includes providing front line support to those needing assistance for access and support services, while also administering the behind the scenes tasks to ensure that those supports manifest. This requires an advanced ability to multitask that includes fielding questions and redirecting those whose non-disability-related needs might be better supported from another office, while maintaining a disposition of encouragement and patience.

Fasiha also supports multiple staff members’ professional development experiences and conferences outside of Texas State University. She coordinates and reserves staff members’ registrations, travel, room and board, and method of payment proactively and ensures them a worry free stay throughout their travels. She actively works toward the goal of national and international academic and professional growth for the ODS by obtaining additional funding through multiple channels in accordance to university policies and procedures.

While balancing an exceptional workload, Fasiha has assisted in the transition of five new, full-time staff members in their positions at Texas State. Fasiha values open communication and informs all staff members of current and upcoming events, major milestones, accomplishments, and tribulations in order to rally support and foster a cohesive and collaborative work environment.

Oftentimes, students and their parents who enter the ODS are already feeling a heightened sense of marginalization and pressure around securing supports that could ultimately impact their ability to access accommodations and successfully continue their higher education academic pursuits. Fasiha’s focused energies help many of our students to successfully progress in their courses with the hopes of matriculating toward a degree. Fasiha also helps to promote outreach initiatives by personally facilitating programs for both students and staff at Texas State University, such as the welcome orientations and co-facilitating the DeStress with Art program.

Impressively, she manages the complexities of her role while modeling her approach to support staff and students alike with her ability to calmly redirect individuals (students, staff, and parents) with an un-intrusive and supportive demeanor and sincere desire to help.

Congratulations, Fasiha, on your dedication and hard work!
