

Spring 2018

Prerequisite: HIST 5371 and/or HIST 5345D

HIST 5377 – Project Class

Instructor: Mr. Dan K. Utley

Thursdays 6:30 – 9:20 pm

CRN# 31975

The objective of the project course is to provide students with professional-level research work similar to what they will encounter as public historians. Work projects are conducted in partnership with various agencies organizations recognized for their work in the public history field. Students will utilize a wide variety of historical sources to provide professional and technical assistance to partner groups regarding the accurate documentation of Texas history topics. The class will work under the direction of Mr. Utley and in partnership with a variety of history professionals to set project objectives and time tables, develop outlines and work schedules, conduct research utilizing state and local collections, and draft programmatic materials. All phases of the work will utilize the highest standards of public history practices and will accurately reflect the work of a professional firm.
