Creativity and Aging Forum:
Central Texas Strategic Planning Session
Arts Programs for Seniors

• “Creative Aging”
  A talk by Dr. Gay Hanna, Director of the National Center for Creative Aging in Washington, D.C.
• Strategic planning workshop
• Free and open to the public

Thursday March 4
1:30 - 4:30 p.m.
San Marcos Activity Center
501 E. Hopkins

Sponsored by the City of San Marcos: Community Services, the Texas Long Term Care Institute, the Center for Children and Families at Texas State, the Common Experience, the College of Fine Arts and Communication, and the Department of Art and Design.

RSVP to Grady Hillman at gh24@txstate.edu or 512.467.8382.

Creativity Matters:
The Arts and Aging

Dr. Gay Hanna, artist and Director of the National Center for Creative Aging, will give a free public lecture on current research and practice on arts programming with seniors. She will examine how active participation in the arts enhances physical health among older adults, improves quality of life and healing for those who are ill, and reduces the risk factors that lead to the need for long-term care.

Thursday March 4
5:00 - 6:30 p.m.
Department of Art and Design
JCM 2121

Sponsored by the City of San Marcos: Community Services, the Texas Long Term Care Institute, the Center for Children and Families at Texas State, the Common Experience, the College of Fine Arts and Communication, and the Department of Art and Design.

For more information contact Grady Hillman at gh24@txstate.edu or 512.467.8382.