Resource of the Month: YOUSTAR STUDIO

The new YouStar Studio in Alkek Library Room 109 is a space where you can "record your own original video content for a class project, presentation, online lecture, or performance." The studio provides "all the equipment you need," however, you must bring your own storage device or upload your work to your OneDrive account. The YouStar Studio is fast becoming an excellent resource for class projects and presentations, video resumes and demo reels, or exploring creative concepts or inspirations. To learn more information and reserve studio time, visit: http://www.library.txstate.edu/spaces/YouStarStudio.html

The School of Criminal Justice aims to prepare "competent and responsible public servants to assume roles in criminal investigation and apprehension, agency administration, prosecution, and correctional services." Students can choose from three Criminal Justice focuses: Law Enforcement, Corrections, and general Criminal Justice. Each degree plan has an optional internship program which is "strongly encouraged because it gives students a chance to gain insight into the practitioner side of criminal justice."

A Texas State University degree in Criminal Justice "is designed to provide students with the tools necessary to gain employment in related criminal justice fields such as probation, parole, policing, asset protection and other non-practitioner roles such as research and rehabilitation counseling." Sample job titles include Safety Inspector, Fish & Game Warden, Law Clerk, Loss Prevention Specialist, Police Officer, and Airlines Security Specialist.
