Young Writers’ Camp 2015
June 15 – June 26
Texas State University: Round Rock Campus
lm45@txstate.edu

Registration Deadline: May 15, 2015
Please include payment with registration

Are you looking for a place to explore your writing—a place to share writing with others who are just as passionate? Then join us for one or two fun-filled weeks to learn more about the craft of writing and to grow in your confidence and skill. These workshops offer young writers the time, opportunity, and artistic freedom to produce their best writing and refine their work. The workshops are led by teachers who are professional, certified teachers in the state of Texas currently working in area schools and have chosen to deepen their understanding of the teaching of writing through their affiliation with the Central Texas Writing Project at Texas State University. The Central Texas Writing Project is a collaboration of the National Writing Project, Central Texas school districts, and Texas State University.

One-Week Sessions: $150.00
June 15 - 19
Morning Session 9AM-12PM

- Primary Writers’ Workshop—Creative Writing: Exploring Our World
  For Writers entering grades 1 – 2

- Elementary Writers’ Workshop—Creative Writing: Exploring Our World
  For Writers entering grades 3 – 5

- Middle School Writers’ Workshop—Creative Writing: Exploring Our World
  For Writers entering grades 6 – 9

In the primary, elementary, middle school sessions for creative writing, writers will be supported in a workshop setting where they will be encouraged to explore a variety of genres and to write about the things they care the most about. They will receive guidance from the teacher to revise and edit their writing through whole group mini-lessons, peer conferences, as well as personal conferences to promote individual growth as a writer. All other sessions include a description that is specific to the content of the workshop.
Afternoon session 1pm - 4pm

- College Application Essays: Crafting Personal Statements
  For writers entering grades 11-12

The essay portion of a college application can be a daunting task and one that can cause much anxiety for you, as well as your family. Spend this week on the Texas State University Campus crafting an essay that will gain the attention of the admissions counselor at the college(s) of your choice.

Two-week sessions: $300.00
