Survival Spanish

Survival Spanish is a conversational Spanish course designed for both those who are interested in learning Spanish fundamentals and those who are interested in improving the Spanish they already know. No previous knowledge of Spanish is required. However, those who do speak some Spanish will learn new things and find opportunity to improve and expand their knowledge and conversational skills.

Students can anticipate a relaxed and enjoyable learning environment, where the content progresses slowly and is repetitive enough that it will make sense. Classes are taught with the idea, “if you’re not enjoying the process, you’re not learning.” Practical communication, polite conversation, and key phrases, are the course objectives, everything needed for a solid foundation from which one can immediately begin using what they’ve learned and continue to build conversational skills.
