Safety Week

President Trauth discussed holding a safety week during spring 2019 -- a week designated to draw the university community's attention to safety information/resources, to encourage students to make safe choices, and to conduct safety drills in designated locations.

President Trauth led a discussion on safety initiatives that could have an immediate impact, especially in the residence halls. Mr. Algoe described measures currently in place, including the forms of training delivered by the University Police Department to the Resident Hall Assistants and the residents. Mr. Algoe summarized results of the most recent campus safety walk and the lighting issues that are currently being addressed. Mr. Algoe reported that since 2015, the number of cameras on our university campuses have double from 400 to 800. Cabinet members approved the initiation of a camera study, beginning with the cameras in and around the residence halls.

Dr. Smith is looking into providing 24-hour staffing at all residence halls and installing automatic locks in all residence hall bedrooms.

Provost Bourgeois added that the retention task force will determine if certain residence halls may be negatively associated with retention and, if that indeed is the case, then identify residence hall-specific interventions that may bolster retention.
