2019-2020 Performance Plans: Due July 31

4 steps in the Performance Plan Process

01 Manager creates employee performance plan
- Manager creates goals and job duties (or copies from last year)
- Manager adds work environment and physical demands
- Manager adds professional development goals
- Manager sends to employee for review

02 Employee reviews performance plan and sends to manager for 1:1
Employees can review the performance plan created by their manager. This should help employees prepare questions or concerns for the 1:1 meeting.

03 Manager schedules the 1:1 meeting
The performance plan is an important resource in developing successful teams by discussing goals, duties, and work expectations. Another important aspect of the performance plan is that it encourages ongoing communication throughout the year.

04 Manager sends the performance plan to completion
The final step in the process puts the performance plan in a completed status.

The deadline for completion of the performance plan is July 31, 2019.

For more information visit the Performance Plan: User Guides website or contact performancemgmt@txstate.edu.

IN THE SPOTLIGHT: EMPLOYEE OF THE MONTH

Dr. Carmen Adams
Administrative Assistant III,
Clinical Laboratory Sciences (CLS), College of Health Professions

EMPLOYEE OF THE MONTH
June 2019
Carmen has gone above and beyond her role in the CLS Program to ensure that the “high level needs” for the computer and laboratory automation have remained usable and up-to-date during the loss of the college long-time primary computer person. Carmen logged many hours working with ITAC, the faculty, and special laboratory (off site) automation interfaces to keep our systems up and running. Carmen works very hard to assist both the faculty and students in the upkeep and current needs of the IT areas.

The National Accrediting Agency for Clinical Laboratory Science (NAACLS) is committed to being the premier international agency for accreditation and approval of education programs in the clinical laboratory sciences and related health care professions. NAACLS provides leadership in fostering innovative educational approaches and actively supports cooperative efforts with other agencies. The CLS Program turned in the NAACLS Self Study Report on April 1, 2019 a site visit is scheduled fall 2019. Carmen assisted the CLS Chair on this report, worked to supply the needed documentation, proof reading, and attention to detail that is needed for this process. This is considered beyond her primary duties.

Three units in our college (Respiratory Care, Physical Therapy, and Communication Disorders) moved into their new location, Willow Hall, in Round Rock this past year. Due to that move, our CLS Program acquired two new laboratory spaces (ENC 306 and 307) as well as additional storage and office space. Carmen was crucial in the ongoing customer service communication between our program and the other internals (and external) stakeholders to make this move successful. For example, Carmen assisted the CLS Chair and other faculty with ensuring the proper safety documents and materials were available in the new spaces. This included federal/state documents for viewing, as well as actual safety devices (eye washes, mercury spill kits, etc.) were implemented for regulatory requirements. Carmen worked with ITAC and Dr. Matt Brooks (Associate Dean, Health Professions) to ensure these new spaces were updated with the proper computer needs. Finally, Carmen worked to ensure faculty communicated their equipment needs (electricity for microscopes, removal of shelves for space utilization of refrigerators and other items, etc.) to facilities staff and others on campus to ensure the labs were ready for use.

Carmen has multiple advanced degrees, including a strong background in statistics and research design as well as educational pedagogy. Carmen previously worked at ACC and taught introductory math. Due to that insight in pedagogy needs for introductory math, she “relates” to college students in the program and often is providing insight, understanding, empathy, and actual assistance to the students and faculty! She is an outstanding resource for the college and program. Due to her ability to understand new systems, as well as the administrative skills she has achieved over the years, she often assists other administrative assistants in the college and research coordinators with things that are not always part of her job duties. She simply does it to “help others” get the job done. She is a wonderful example of Texas State generosity.

Congratulations, Carmen, on your dedication and hard work!
IN THE SPOTLIGHT: TEXAS STATE QUARTERLY AWARD

Texas State Quarterly Team Award
JC Kellam 11th Floor Upgrade Team

The immediate service was provided for the VPFSS department, as they are the owners on record of the JCK 1100 space. Ultimately, however, all faculty and staff that utilize the space are the beneficiaries of the work completed in this area.

This one-time project came about when it was determined that an upgrade to the Audio/Video equipment in this space was needed to help facilitate a higher quality audio/video production for the hundreds of events, meetings and trainings held in this space every year.

Accomplishments include:
- An upgraded, high-definition video system that includes a new laser projector and a new, larger motorized projection screen.
IN THE SPOTLIGHT: TEXAS STATE QUARTERLY AWARD

• An upgraded audio system that includes the replacement of 16 ceiling speakers and the addition of 4 new speakers in the JCK 1100 “lounge” area behind the projection screen wall.

• The addition of software-based video conferencing capabilities which includes a presenter-facing PTZ camera.

• The addition of an ADA-compliant media cabinet that can be raised or lowered electronically to accommodate an individual’s needs.

The idea to upgrade the A/V equipment in JCK 1100 began in the Fall 2018 semester. After several meetings between Learning Spaces and the key stakeholders, an A/V functional specification document was created and ultimately approved by VPFSS on January 15, 2019. Normally taking a project of this size from functional spec to full design and ultimately fully installed would be a 4 to 6-month process, however, after several discussions, it was determined that Spring Break 2019 would provide the best time for the work on this project to be done (3/11/19 – 3/22/19). What this meant was that this project would have to happen in ONLY 2 months (which is less than half the time it would normally take).

This project was a huge undertaking that was completed on an accelerated timeline of 2 months. This would not have been successful without the participation of all team members that were nominated.

By keeping this project fully “in-house,” tens of thousands of dollars were saved for the VPFSS department and for the university as a whole. Upgrading the equipment in this space benefits anyone and everyone who ever holds an event or attends an event in this location. Audience members in this space can now see the text on the projection screen from farther back in the room with greater brightness, clarity, and overall image size. Audience members will now have a much easier time hearing the presenters in the space as key audio upgrades and settings were put in place to enhance intelligibility. Finally, with the addition of a PTZ camera in the space, attendance at remote locations is now possible utilizing Zoom (i.e., Professional development can happen in this space between SM and RR, etc.).

This “simple” Audio/Video equipment upgrade project turned into a monster project for many reasons, including:

• Time and budget constraints – project completed in 2 months instead of 4-6 months.

• Physical issues - namely getting an almost 15’ long projection screen up to the 11th floor of a building that has no freight elevator and whose stairways have low, overhead obstructions.

• Coordinating amongst a large team that encompassed 2 divisions, 8 departments, and 50 individual university personnel. Each department had a specific job to undertake and everything had to happen on schedule for this to be a successful project.

• The joint team that accomplished this project successfully overcame these and many other smaller hurdles to successfully complete these upgrades in an extremely high-utilized VIP space.

Congratulations to the team on its achievements and outstanding efforts!
