ENGAGEMENT WEEKS BUILDS CONNECTIONS

The Associated Student Government Launches New Initiative to Engage Students

SAN MARCOS, TEXAS- Starting on September 18th, the Associated Student Government will host one of several events over the course of the semester to connect with students and reintroduce the student government to the student body.

Student Body President, Nathan McDaniel, and Vice President, Alison Sibley, have initiated what is being called "Engagement Weeks". One week of every month the student government will mobilize in the Quad and attend organization meetings on campus to connect with constituents.

This is a unique opportunity for students to easily meet their student representatives and voice any concerns they may have. The legislative, executive, and judicial branch will all take part in this event as well as the Graduate House.

This engagement week will be held September 18th-20th. Vendors will be out each day giving out promotional items and food on these days. In addition, to being out in the Quad and reaching out to organizations, the Student Government will host a rally on Wednesday in the LBJ Amphitheatre from 11am-1pm.

For any questions, please feel free to call the Associated Student Government office at (512) 245-1274.
