INFORMATION FOR PROSPECTIVE AUTHORS

Manuscript Requirements

The American Journal of Engineering Education welcomes articles that bridge the worlds of engineering education and practice. Theoretical manuscripts must provide a clear link to important and interesting business and economics applications. Current information is available on our website at www.CluteInstitute.com. The reviewing process generally takes between 8 and 10 weeks to complete (depending upon the time of year, etc.). We employ a double blind refereeing process for all manuscripts submitted for review. Prospective authors should observe the following editorial requirements:

Manuscripts to be considered for publication should be submitted as an email attachment, in Microsoft Word format, to the address listed below. The text should be formatted for 8.5 x 11 inch paper, single-spaced at 10 points with one inch margins, left justified. We generally follow the American Psychological Association (APA) guidelines. The submission should contain the following:

- Name, institute affiliation, mailing address, and email address for all authors
- Paper title
- Abstract
- Keywords
- Introduction
- Body of paper
- Tables, figures, etc. in their proper position in the paper (if applicable)
- Conclusion
- Brief biography of each author (one paragraph, no more than 80-100 words)
- References

Footnotes or endnotes should use superscripts. They, too, should be numbered consecutively with Arabic numbers (i.e. 1, 2, …). See a recent issue of one of our online journals for examples.

References should be numbered and listed alphabetically at the very end of the manuscript. References in the text should appear as follows: “According to Clute and Garman (1985, pp. 104-105)” . . . Include page numbers only when appropriate. Consistency is more important than style. Journals and books in the reference section should appear as follows:

If accepted, the page fee is $40 per single-spaced page (at 10 points) and is due only after the manuscript is accepted for publication. The Clute Institute will determine the page fee from the materials submitted and send an invoice to the author.

Please feel free to contact us if there are any questions.

ACADEMIC CONFERENCES SPONSORED BY THE CLUTE INSTITUTE

Please Join Us at one of our annual academic conference locations described below. Since the 1990’s, we have hosted conferences to promote excellence in academic research. Our conference locations are chosen to enhance your experience inside and outside the conference sessions. We offer four different tracks at our conferences: Business & Economics, Education, Engineering Education, and Health Sciences. Papers that receive the “Best Paper” award in each conference session are automatically reviewed for possible publication in one of our journals. For additional details about our conferences and our academic journals (all indexed in Cabell’s and many other directories), please visit our website or send us an email.

CONFERENCES:

- New Orleans, Louisiana, USA

  The 2011 New Orleans International Academic Conference
  March 14-16, 2011
  Last Day for Early Payment Discount: Feb. 17, 2011

  We will be at the Marriott New Orleans, right in the French Quarter.
